

INTRODUCTION

The Islamic University of Technology (IUT), a subsidiary organ of the Organization of the Islamic Cooperation (OIC), was established with the aim of developing human resources in the member states of the OIC in the fields of engineering, technology and technical education. The main objectives include imparting engineering and technical knowledge at various levels, upgrading skills, conducting research and sharing specialized technical know-how among the member states of the OIC. IUT also offers short and long term pedagogical training for teachers of technical education and personnel related to TVET through Instructor Training and General Studies (ITS) department.

In order to achieve these objectives, IUT offers long regular courses at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels leading to Bachelor degree, Postgraduate diploma, Masters degree and Doctor of Philosophy. The different courses leading to degrees and diplomas are offered by the departments of Instructor Training and General Studies (ITS), Computer Science and Information Technology (CIT), Electrical and Electronic Engineering (EEE), Mechanical and Chemical Engineering (MCE), and Civil and Environmental Engineering (CEE)

In addition to the long regular courses, the departments organize skill upgrading and knowledge updating short courses, seminars, workshops at national and international levels. Depending on the specific needs and requests of any member state of the OIC, special courses are also arranged at mutually agreed locations and time.

The international workshop on "Competency Based Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) for the OIC Member States." is going to be organized by the department of Instructor Training and General Studies (ITS), Islamic University of Technology (IUT).
